

Privacy notice

At 'The Gwenfrewi Project' and 'Alison Goulbourne' we are committed to maintaining the trust and confidence of our visitors to our web sites. In particular, we want you to know that we are not in the business of selling, renting or trading email lists with other companies and businesses for marketing purposes. In this Privacy Policy, we've provided information on when and why we collect your personal information, how we use it, the limited conditions under which we may disclose it to others and how we keep it secure.

When someone visits www.thegwenfrewiproject.co.uk or www.alisongoulbourne.co.uk we may use third party services, such as Google Analytics or another Stats package, to collect standard internet log information and details of visitor behaviour patterns. We do this to find out things such as the number of visitors to the various parts of the site. This information is only processed in a way which does not identify anyone.

We collect personal information if you email or write to us. We use that information for a few of reasons: to give you information you've asked us to tell you about; to contact you if we need to obtain or provide additional information; to check our records are right and to check every now and then that you're happy and satisfied. We don't rent or trade email lists with other organisations and businesses.

You are entitled to view, amend, or delete the personal information that we hold. Email your request to us using our contact details below.

We review our Privacy policy from time to time and will post updates here. This policy was last updated on 23 April, 2018.
